Would it be a good idea to have a validation check on the email field?

Specification/design requirements:

This is the initial login stage for the user to register for a Dojo event.

The email will be checked against the database to see whether an account already exists. If it does, the password will be checked against the stored password and access will be granted. The user will be taken to a page which will contain information about upcoming Dojo events.

If the user does not exist in the database, a message and link will be displayed which will take the user to the registration page.
